

Charles W. Marcussen

Charles W. Marcussen is managing partner of MSH CPAs and the firm's tax director. He received two Bachelor of Business Administration degrees from Harding University in Accounting (1999) and in Management and Marketing (1998).

A native of northern Indiana, he has worked for a large resort vacation company, an investment bank, and a small business in the Little Rock, Ark. metro area, gaining broad experience in corporate accounting and consolidations, forecasting, and small business management before making the jump to public accounting. Since moving to Central Florida in 2009 he has focused on tax and accounting services; ranging from individuals, estate, and small business, to large multi-state and international corporations, as well as assisting on auditing and attest engagements.